Information and Support for Success

Breastfeeding Group

The early weeks of breastfeeding can be challenging. Breastfeeding should not hurt. Come with your newborn and receive expert help from lactation consultants and counselors. Sleepy babies, gassy babies, burping, pumping and weight gain are some of the topics that will be discussed. Surrounded by other moms and babies, you will gain confidence in breastfeeding. Along with hands-on help from an expert, learn from more experienced moms who can share tips, challenges and emotions they experienced the first few weeks. Come as you are to this very informal, warm and welcoming environment. These group sessions are free and registration is not required. You are welcome to attend during pregnancy. Please call 616.391.5000 for more information or for weather related or holiday cancellations.
